

We've turned 7,000 km of coastline into a safe harbour.

Finmeccanica's integrated systems are a flexible, global and advanced response to the needs of Homeland Protection. Thanks to the integration of a full array of ground, maritime, air and satellite resources and the intelligent dialogue established between them, these systems are fit for a great number of civil and military applications, tailored to each client's needs. The result of Finmeccanica's commitment to innovation and ongoing interaction of all the Group's competencies, integrated systems make life a safer sailing for everyone.
